

```
[root@pc ~]# touch bashProject
[root@pc ~]#
[root@pc ~]# chmod u+x bashProject
[root@pc ~]#
[root@pc ~]# nano bashProject
[root@pc ~]#
[root@pc ~]#
[root@pc ~]# ./bashProject
This is a system managment tool What do you want to do

1) Add User      3) Delete User    5) Add Group      7) Delete Group  9) Disable User  11) Change Password 13) Exit
2) Modify User   4) List Users      6) Modify Group   8) List Groups   10) Enable User   12) About
Enter your choice: 3
Enter username: you User deleted.

Enter your choice: 12
Simple bash menu for user and group management

Enter your choice: 13
Bye [root@pc ~]#
```

```
GNU nano 5.6.1 bashProject Modified
./bin/bash

Simple User & Group Menu

echo "This is a system managment tool What do you want to do" echo

PS3="Enter your choice: " select choice in \

"Add User" \
"Modify User" \
"Delete User" \
"List Users" \
"Add Group" \
"Modify Group" \
"Delete Group" \
"List Groups" \
"Disable User" \
"Enable User" \
"Change Password" \
"About" \
"Exit" do case $REPLY in
        1) read -p "Enter username: " user
            useradd "$user" echo "User added."
            ;;

        2) read -p "Enter old username: " old read -p "Enter new username: " new usermod -l "$new" "$old" echo "User modified."
            ;;

        3) read -p "Enter username: " user
            userdel -r "$user" echo "User deleted."
            ;;

        4) echo "Users list:"
            cut -d: -f1 /etc/passwd
            ;;

        5) read -p "Enter group name: " group
            groupadd "$group" echo "Group added."
            ;;

        6) read -p "Enter old group name: " oldg
            read -p "Enter new group name: " newg groupmod -n "$newg" "$oldg" echo "Group modified."
            ;;

        7) read -p "Enter group name: " group
            groupdel "$group"
            echo "Group deleted."
            ;;

        8) echo "Groups list:"
            ;;

        9) read -p "Enter username: " user
            usermod -s /dev/null "$user"
            echo "User disabled."
            ;;

        10) read -p "Enter username: " user
            usermod -u 1 "$user"
            echo "User enabled."
            ;;

        11) read -p "Enter username: " user
            passwd "$user"
            ;;

        12) echo "Simple bash menu for user and group management"
            ;;

        13) echo "Bye"
            break
            ;;

        *) echo "Wrong choice"
            ;;
    esac
done
```

```
GNU nano 5.6.1 bashProject Modified

        9) read -p "Enter username: " user
            usermod -s /dev/null "$user"
            echo "User disabled."
            ;;

        10) read -p "Enter username: " user
            usermod -u 1 "$user"
            echo "User enabled."
            ;;

        11) read -p "Enter username: " user
            passwd "$user"
            ;;

        12) echo "Simple bash menu for user and group management"
            ;;

        13) echo "Bye"
            break
            ;;

        *) echo "Wrong choice"
            ;;
    esac
done
```

```
GNU nano 5.6.1 bashProject Modified

        9) read -p "Enter username: " user
            usermod -s /dev/null "$user"
            echo "User disabled."
            ;;

        10) read -p "Enter username: " user
            usermod -u 1 "$user"
            echo "User enabled."
            ;;

        11) read -p "Enter username: " user
            passwd "$user"
            ;;

        12) echo "Simple bash menu for user and group management"
            ;;

        13) echo "Bye"
            break
            ;;

        *) echo "Wrong choice"
            ;;
    esac
done
```